All resource persons delivered very informative lectures during the e-Seminar Series. They provided valuable information regarding importance of Birds and their conservation. During the Seminar we came to know that, Maharashtra is also very rich in terms of Birds diversity. Haryal is our state bird. There are more than 450 species of birds in the state. Some of these birds are endemic to the world, they are found only in the state. During the winter season, birds from other countries, including Europe and Africa, migrate and stay in the State.

Resource persons successfully convey their message that why should we conserve Birds and how? Nearly all kinds of birds are doing the work of nature conservation automatically through the act of getting their food from the various elements of creation i.e. plants and animals. The flowers or sunbirds that come to the flowers to taste the sweetness of the flowers of many plants are doing the work of pollinating the flowers. Pollination is the process of fruiting and seed production in plants. It is through such seed production that plants propagate further. Those plants are born again. Birds like the Mud Raghu, the Nachra and the heavenly dancer control their numbers by biting the growth-reducing insects, insects and worms and do a great deal to keep the plants growing. If the remains of dead animals are not eaten and destroyed by birds such as crows, hawks, and vultures, the decomposition of such animal remains causes methane-like gases to be released, causing global warming. These birds free themselves from that problem and thereby contribute to the task of preventing global warming.

Therefore, in order to solve the problems of global warming and climate change, we must make every effort to ensure the survival of birds and their habitat. It is also very important that we take care that all kinds of food chains in nature that the birds are part of will remain intact. On the occasion of Bird Week, all this knowledge, our own knowledge of the future existence of human beings on earth, should begin to be brought before all.

To spread awareness about Birds conservation, life science society in collaboration with literary club Gramgeeta Mahavidyalaya, Chimur has organized various online competitions for the students all over the Maharashtra as listed below;

1. Poster Competition on the topic 'Bird Our Friend'.
